Measuring Vessels at Port.

The system of measuring vessels at American ports, which has resulted in charging some steamers dues on a very much larger tonnage than their register shows, has formed the subject of complaints from British owners, and it is understood that the matter will be taken up with the United States government through diplomatic channels.—Shipping Illustrated.

Design for Ocean-River Steamer. The St. Louis Republic says: John F. Cahill, of No. 6038 Horton Place, declares that he has perfected an ocean-river type of steamship by which freight may be transported, without breaking bulk, from St. Louis to points in Mexico and Central and South America. Plans for the boat have been designed by Walfrid Sylvén, of Stockholm, consulting architect to the Swedish navy, who formerly was connected with the American navy, and Mr. Cahill is desirous to organize a company and obtain capital. Mr. Cahill said yesterday that the importance of the Latin-American trade had been impressed on his mind by an article in the Republic on steamship facilities from St. Louis and the Gulf ports to the Latin-American countries. The present is the time, he said, for St. Louis to get this commerce. For equipping two steel boats with adjustable keels, $300,000 will be required. The ship will be 250 feet long, with a 45-foot beam and 27 feet depth. It will be so constructed that its cargo can be increased as it proceeds down the river. Immersed 8 feet it will carry a load of 1,000 tons, and immersed 12 feet it will carry 2,000 tons. The first patent was obtained in 1875. Since then the plan has been improved. A new patent was taken out in 1899. Mr. Cahill was consul for Mexico at St. Louis for twenty years. For a time he was general manager of the Mexican and Spanish-American Exchange and editor and publisher of El Comercio del Valle, at St. Louis. He said he has valuable concession for his ocean-river company in Argentina and Venezuela.

CHARGE OF MUTINY MADE BY CAPTAIN

Master of the Schooner E. Hempstead, Makes Statement.

CLAIMS THE TWO MEN HE PUT OFF AT HURRICANE ISLAND ATTACKED HIM—VESSEL IS OWNED IN PANAMA CITY, AND THE OWNER RECENTLY COMMUNICATED WITH CUSTOMS OFFICERS HERE.

The schooner E. Hempstead, owned by E. T. Matthews, of Panama City, who recently communicated with local customs officers, has arrived at Biloxi, where she has been libelled by one of the men who left the vessel at Hurricane Island. The master of the vessel claims the men mutinied, as is told in the following special from Biloxi:

"Captain Adolph Frietsch, of the schooner E. Hempstead, which was libelled Friday by a seaman, Gus Johnson, who charged cruelty and inhuman treatment, yesterday gave his side of the story to the public, and declares that there was mutiny on board the schooner and that his action was in self-defense. Johnson charged that Captain Frietsch, after beating and cursing him and Fred Bedford, another of the crew, marooned them on Hurricane Island. Johnson asks damages in the sum of $2,500. Captain Frietsch says that the men were incompetent as seamen and that he did growl at them for their lubbardly ways on board and that when between Hurricane Island, which is near St. Andrews Bay, and the mainland, he ordered them to take down a topsail. Their unseemly manner angered him and when he went forward to take down the headsails Johnson, he says, attacked him with a piece of scantling, and he was forced to defend himself with an iron bar. Several blows were struck and finally Captain Frietsch and his son, Lawrence Frietsch, armed, he with a knife and his son with the iron bar, ordered Johnson and Bedford into the dory and rowed them to within a few yards of the shore and made them get out. The water was only a few inches deep, and the men waded ashore. He denies that he placed them on Hurricane Island, but says it was a peninsula of the mainland. He claims the men were in mutiny and that he was well within his rights as master of a vessel and the maritime laws. Captain Frietsch is a Norwegian by birth and has been a sailor all his life. He has been on the high seas and made trips from San Francisco to Honolulu and other ports. E. T. Matthews, of Panama City, Fla., the owner of the E. Hempstead, has been communicated with, and is expected to arrive here shortly."

That's what father said, "On Top The Garden Wall," Orpheum next week.

R. Cooley Must Leave State. Sentence Suspended on Crockett.

Rosie Cooley and Robert Crockett, both well-known young white men of this city, who were arrested about two months ago on the charge of stealing a case of whiskey from S. A. Friedman's saloon, pleaded guilty before Judge Beegs in the criminal court yesterday and were sentenced. Cooley was sentenced to pay the costs of court and was given the privilege of leaving the state within seven days or to serve a jail sentence not yet announced by the court. Crockett was also sentenced to pay the costs of court. He was released from custody with the understanding that if he again gets drunk he is to be brought before the court, when the jail sentence which was not announced yesterday will be imposed upon him.

LINGERING COLD.

Withstood Other Treatment But Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Last winter I caught a very severe cold which lingered for weeks," says J. Urquhart, of Zephyr, Ontario. "My cough was very dry and harsh. The local doctor recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and guaranteed it, so I gave it a trial. One small bottle of it cured me. I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have ever used." This is one of the most staple medicines in use. Thousands have testified to its excellence. It not only cures a cold quickly and effectively, but counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. It is equally reliable for children and may be given to them with implicit confidence. It always cures and is pleasant to take. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no opium or other harmful drugs.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.
Chicago, Feb. 8.—Wheat for May delivery touched a new high record mark for the season today, when it sold at $1.11-1/8 per bushel. This point was reached on initial transactions as prices eased off on a profit-taking. The previous high point was $1.11, recorded on December 14. The bullish sentiment was due to an advance of 10 in the price of wheat at Liverpool, and to a probable sold save for the winter wheat held in this country. Owing to the fact that a large part of the fall-sown crop is now without snow protection, a sharp drop in temperature, it is claimed has seriously injured the growing grain. During the early part of the day May held within the opening range.

The bulge in wheat caused considerable
